

President's Message

Good Day to All!

The annual banquet is coming up, so check your calendar and clear it for banquet night, because both the food and company will, obviously, be stellar.

I also want to thank everyone for their efforts on behalf of LAB. This will be my last function as LAB president, but I will continue on as Treasurer this next year, and it's an impressive group of people to associate and work with. I count myself lucky to be a part of it all. Thank you.

Lastly, I would like to encourage participation in the association from as many members as are able and willing. There are a number of initiatives that we could conceivably take on within the local community, from fostering cooperation in the defense of threatened budgets and advocating for the importance of library services, especially in these times, to, possibly, using some of our funds to establish small scholarships for worthy librarians-to-be.

-continued-

I just want to emphasize that our actions could benefit both our association specifically, and our community as a whole. I'd like to see us become more active.

With that, I thank you, and hope everyone has a wonderful summer filled with joy and peaceful contentment.
